TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,400

Based on the usual method of estimating population from the number of polls there are 12,000 inhabitants in the city of Barre. Still Barreites are claiming only 11,000.

The cigarette has once more demonstrated its uselessness. The careless disposal of the stub of one caused the destruction of a house, barn and stables in a Maine town yesterday.

And while Ambassador Reid was being received by King Edward, the queen "chatted" with Mrs. Reid and her daughter. There appears to be no particular reason why she shouldn't have chatted.

Bishop Hall's visitation to Montpelier on Sunday was one of the first undertaken by him since a most serious illness. While he has not yet entirely regained his health he is able to perform in part the duties that devolve upon him.

The statement from Washington that President Roosevelt and the German Emperor have decided that this is not the psychological moment for ending the war has a somewhat autocratic sound. Let the war go on until Theodore I and William III decide officially that Japan has won.—Boston Herald.

In the above The Herald continues its puerile and splenetic attacks on the president. The contemporary's aversion to Roosevelt amounts to a frenzy at times.

The apparent delay in deeding the library lot to the Aldrich Library is explained by the statement that it has been the endeavor of those representing the city and of the trustees of the Aldrich Library to agree on a deed that would protect both the Library and the city in its rights and at the same time provide against any possible friction on either side in the future. The deed as made was only agreed on after many conferences of the two parties interested and is the result of much thought and study. While it is not expected that the library will be erected this season, preparations will be made and the lot cleared so that an early start can be made another season.

A MERITED REBUKE.

Nan Patterson has been driven from the stage. Therein is cause for tremendous congratulation on the part of the American public. Here was a young woman whose relations with a wealthy sporting man of New York at the time he was shot and killed, brought her prominently before the public eye. Three subsequent trials on the charge of murdering that man made the name of Nan Patterson, the Floradora girl, known wherever newspapers penetrate. Some of the papers were fairly soaked with gush and sympathetic drivel for the woman. When the last jury which tried her failed to reach an agreement the chorus girl was released from jail on her own recognizance, although the charge of murder still hangs over her. Naturally everyone was expecting that the woman would return to the stage, and that, with the very large advertising she had received through the conduct of her trials, she would prove a stupendous money-making attraction both for herself and for the manager who should be fortunate enough to engage her services. The woman did not disappoint the people. She did return to the stage, at a salary which was quoted at two thousand dollars a week. This Patterson woman started out on her dime-museum career in Pennsylvania. In her manager's eyes there were visions of great outpourings of people to see the woman who had been three times tried on the charge of murder and who had been virtually acquitted at the last. Among thinking people it was realized that the woman's appearance on the stage, to be made out a heroine.

This is the month when Nature and man revel in new green.

Fashion this season calls every cloth green that has one thread of that color.

The Clothing designers were bright this season. They cut the Summer Clothing so different from last season that the old Suit looks like a '49 cr.

The new Coats are longer, lapels and collars wider, longer opening at the neck, and vents at back or side seams.

The right things are here. Why take chances?

could not fail to be of great injury to young people, particularly girls who might be led to look up to Nan Patterson as a type to be imitated. They protested. But their protests were of no use, so long as the company presented a respectable performance, and the company began its season, with Nan Patterson as the "star," in Altoona, Pa.

But here is where the common sense of the public asserted itself. Instead of crowded houses and overflowing treasury, the presentation was practically a failure. The woman's last appearance in Altoona was witnessed by a "small" audience, and all the women in the audience left before the end of the performance. Could anything be more of a rebuke than this? Discouraged at the outlook Miss Patterson left the company and went to her home in Washington. It is in Washington, in the midst of her family, a sick mother and a heart-broken father, that she belongs, and the public has told her in a way more forcible than words.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Chester M. Haselton of Claremont, Married a Month, Tired of Life.

Claremont, N. H., June 6.—Chester M. Haselton, an employee of the Sullivan Machinery company, and residing in the brick house in the rear of the town hall, attempted to commit suicide shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday by drinking iodine.

Haselton has been married about a month, marrying Miss Ada E. Cone of this town, the ceremony taking place at Bellows Falls, Vt., on May 3, the bride being about 17 years of age, and the groom about 24.

The young wife's story is as follows: "My husband has been very abusive to me for three weeks, and this noon he got mad and finally said he was going to commit suicide, and grabbed a bottle of iodine. I knocked it from his hand and at once started for a doctor, as he must have got a little of it. He said that if I made any attempt to get anyone he would kill me. I ran out of the house and got Dr. Upham, who immediately returned to the house with me, but when he got there, my husband was gone, where I do not know."

WILL BE EXTRADITED.

Gaynor and Greene Will Be Held for United States Authorities.

Montreal, June 6.—Commissioner Lafontaine this morning gave judgment, committing John F. Gaynor and Benjamin Green for extradition and ordering them back to jail, to await surrender to the United States authorities.

Her Firing Shot.

He (after the quarrel)—You will miss me when I'm gone.
She—Yes, and I'd probably miss you before you go if I had anything to throw at you.

SEVERAL FATALITIES.

Tornado Swept Through Lower Michigan Last Evening.

Detroit, Mich., June 6.—An electrical storm which was general through lower Michigan late yesterday took the form of a tornado in the Thumb district. Through the Tuscola and Sanilac counties it swept a path of death and devastation half a mile wide.

The dead:
Mary Smith, child of John Smith, a farmer, near Urban.
Child of Edward Philpotts, a farmer, near Urban.

Fatally injured:
Three children of Edward Philpotts.
Small son of John Smith.
Mrs. Wagner.
Mrs. William Hutchinson.
William Dossier, a farmer.
Seriously injured:
John Smith, arm broken.
Child of John Smith, arm torn off.
Edward Philpotts.

In addition to the above, Elsie Appleman, aged 12 years, was killed by lightning at Hemlock, in Saginaw county, and George Morrow was fatally injured by lightning at Central Lake in Charlevoix county. Three men who had taken refuge with Morrow in a vacant building also sustained severe shocks.

HOUSE BLOWN 200 FEET.

Family Inside But No One Was Injured.—Tornado Visits Binghamton.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 6.—The worst tornado that ever visited this vicinity blew down a large number of houses and barns in the fifth and sixth wards of this city last night at 10:30 o'clock.

This is the section south of the Susquehanna river. The tornado left devastation in its narrow path for several blocks, but so far as reported no one was killed, and only one person was badly injured, in spite of the fact that the dozen or more occupied houses were demolished or badly wrecked.

The tornado moved in a southwesterly direction, evidently attaining its destructive fury near the river on De Russy street. Its worst fury was shown in a small section around Van Buren street. The house of James Hartigan, No. 2 Van Buren street, was lifted bodily from its foundation and carried about 200 feet and deposited on a lot on Livingston avenue. The family was in the house during transit and no one was hurt in the least.

TERRIFIC STORM.

People of Buffalo Were Terrorized by Its Intensity.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 6.—An electrical rain and wind storm, the ferocity of which terrorized people, visited this city last night. The fall of rain resembled a cloud-burst, and the explosions in the air were the most terrific in the city's history. While the storm progressed the city was in darkness, the power being shut off at Niagara Falls.

But little damage was suffered. Some trees were blown down, and some damage was caused by high water. In one street, after the storm passed, the boys swam in the water which was four feet deep.

SHEA WAS ARRESTED.

Teamsters' President Held on Charge of Conspiracy.

Chicago, June 6.—Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and leader in the strike which has existed in Chicago for the last two months, was arrested and taken to jail last night. With him on the journey from the saloon in which he was arrested to the office of the sheriff, and then to the jail, was Hugh McGee, president of the Truck Drivers' union. Both men were taken into custody on indictments charging them with conspiracy, which were voted by the grand jury that adjourned late Saturday night.

The strikers won a decided legal victory yesterday. Judge Peter S. Grosscup intimated that the jailing of the two labor leaders, President Mulligan and John A. Donahue, for alleged contempt of court, in refusing to answer questions, was a most extraordinary proceeding, in view of the fact that the purpose of the testimony sought undoubtedly was to establish a link in the chain of evidence against them.

Judge Grosscup's opinion, on account of its sweeping character and widespread application, attracted much attention. Mulligan and Donahue, who had been held in contempt of court by Judge Kohlsaat for refusing to answer questions before Master in Chancery Sherman, which the defendants were especially ordered by Judge Kohlsaat to answer, were released under $500 bonds by Judge Grosscup and a supersedeas was issued staying Judge Kohlsaat's order following application for a writ of error by the respondents.

TO HAVE AUTO RUNS.

Vermont Automobile Club Will Meet Soon to Plan for Them.

Burlington, June 6.—Dr. Lewis Hazen of this city, president of the State Automobile club, will call a meeting of the club on June 13 to plan a schedule of runs for the season. The club will go on a run to the White Mountains in July.

The membership is 200. The vice presidents are W. B. Fonda of St. Albans and C. C. Warren of Waterbury, and the secretary and treasurer is W. B. Wilson of Springfield.

HURT IN RUNAWAY.

Frank Gould of Northfield Had Collar Bone Broken.

Northfield, June 6.—Frank Gould met with a very serious accident yesterday morning resulting in a broken collar bone. As he was getting out of the wagon at Mr. Winch's blacksmith shop the horse became frightened and ran down the street. Mr. Gould was thrown from the wagon and struck on his shoulders and neck. The horse freed himself from the wagon and ran over into the square but did no further damage.

BIG DRUNK RECORD.

There Were 76 Arrests in Rutland During Month of May.

Rutland, June 6.—According to a report of the chief of police submitted to the board of aldermen last night there were 76 arrests in Rutland during May, the first month under license, 71 of this number resulting from liquor directly or indirectly. In April there were only 33 arrests, 15 being intoxication cases.

The aldermen at their meeting voted to authorize the mayor to issue temporary loan warrants for $25,000, making $74,000 that the city has borrowed since January 1.

The board voted down a proposition, favored by Mayor J. F. Manning, to give the state board of health authority to proceed at the city's expense to condemn several farms in Mendon which are said to pollute the city's water supply. The state board recently held a hearing on this matter at the mayor's instigation and found a dangerous state of affairs. The aldermen prefer to build drains at their own expense rather than invest in Mendon real estate.

TRIED HANGING.

William Foster of Essex Junction Was Cut Down.

Burlington, June 6.—William Foster was taken from the county jail yesterday, where he has been since Saturday, to Essex Junction, where he was tried before Justice E. W. Sibley for being drunk.

Foster offered a plea of not guilty but was convicted. During the trial the fact developed that while drunk Foster climbed to the hay loft, tied a rope about his neck and jumped. He was discovered and the rope was cut before he strangled. He was fined $5 and costs and will serve the alternate sentence of ten days in jail.

When arrested, four bottles of whiskey were found in Foster's pockets. This led to a suspicion that he did not have it there for his own use, and a hearing will be held June 14 to determine whether it shall be confiscated.

Charged With Deer Killing.

Brandon, June 6.—J. V. Hooker of Goshen and John Degarmo of Forestdale went to Rochester Saturday afternoon and arrested Robert McGibbon of that place, who is charged with killing two deer. McGibbon came to Brandon Saturday morning with a load of lumber and it is reported that he had a sack on the load which he threw off while passing through Goshen. Upon investigation the sack was found to contain two deer heads, two pelts and eight legs. The lumber on which the sack had laid was spotted with blood.

Cossatt Confirms Report.

Philadelphia, June 6.—President Cossatt of the Pennsylvania railroad today confirmed the report that he had resigned from the Equitable company.
